innovation being some of it. The university's main directions, principles, values and reforms are carried out dynamically in a systematic, coordinated manner and have placed BTU on a development path leading towards becoming a member of the European Higher Education Area. As a forward-looking university, BTU realizes that it faces new demands and strives to meet the challenges of the century.

Therefore, Internationalization has become a high priority for BTU; the university is keen to establish new strategic alliances and partnerships, and doing so through cooperation with Austrian universities within Erasmus+ KA107 will be fully in line with its internationalisation strategy, which has a focus on building international partnerships in education and innovation and says that the university has set a goal to increase its outgoing/incoming mobility by 2% in the next 3 years. This can be made possible only through the effective and efficient planning of the projects and exchange programs together with the international partners. By offering mobility opportunities for Georgian students and staff, BTU will contribute to its mission of equipping its members with the tools and skills necessary to contribute to the development of Georgian society. Furthermore, as the statistics show the undergraduate and graduate students from Business and Technology University are enthusiastic to deepen their knowledge of European countries through mobilities. As a result BTU will be a hub of excellent students who will have a great social, cultural, educational and training experience. On the other hand, the entrepreneurial spirit and practical experience gained abroad may help them set up their own creative and innovative enterprises that will underpin Georgia's international economic competitiveness; the academic staff members will also utilize this unique model of cooperation which supports learning, teaching and research exchanges on international level.

The market research showed us that hotels and tourism agencies in Kakheti are lack of the promotional material and guide tour maps for the tourists, whose number is increasing regularly. The project will involve human resources of our university (professors and students) to create the material which is highly demandable. The students will do their field trips on site (archeological places, wineries, mountainous and other resort agencies and prepare the material for the guide books. The gained material will be elaborated by the local and international experts and final product will be offered to broad society. (There would be foreseen the point of view of all possible type of tourist: families with children, extreme lovers, families, friends, teenagers, elders and so no). 2. TeSaU has the desire to create Joint MA interdisciplinary program in Wine Tourism Management together with the EU partners.
